THANK YOU

Our wonderful new sign is up and is a beautiful tribute to thank those who helped rebuild our wonderful playground area and provide a little information about what our town endured throughout the devastation of the 2020 fires.

The amazing generosity of The Commonwealth Bank Australia, Tweed Heads Public School and Heathcote Public School who helped rebuild our amazing playground. We are so grateful for their kindness, and the students and staff are loving the new space.

STEAM PROJECTS

Last week Students were captivated with the Sphero RVR'S, students worked virtually with Matt and Michelle to create virus's and infect their RVR, students then had to vaccinate them to cure them. Students working on the Edison's had a blast programming the Edison to make them dance. Our STEAM classes have been a wonderful addition to the curriculum and the students have flourished in the robotic world. Our Steam program has now finished, in its place Mrs. Adams has an exciting unit, around renewable and non-renewable energy.

Reciprocity

Ready, willing and able to learn alone and with others.

The ability to listen, take your turn, and understand the viewpoint of someone with whom you do not immediately agree, are all useful for a learner.

We break Reciprocity down into four components: Interdependence, collaboration, empathy and listening and imitation.

Collaboration-

Collaboration involves knowing how to learn with others. It means being able to work as part of a pair or a team, in a situation where no one person is in possession of all parts of the puzzle, and where sharing of information and ideas is essential. Collaboration means being willing to share and having the skills of communication to do so effectively.
